As illegal asylum seekers pour into the EU, we have to ask...

HOW MANY MORE CAN WE TAKE?

Illegal immigration into European Union countries is soaring, and the new arrivals favour Britain as the softest touch of all. Illegal immigration into the EU has gone up more than ten times since 1993, and the flood is getting stronger all the time.

EU figures show that 500,000 illegals poured in last year alone, up from a 'mere' 40,000 as recently as 1993. And at every point of entry, police and border guards admit that the numbers just go on growing.

- In MOROCCO, African immigrants wait for their chance to board the small boats that ferry them across the nine miles of sea to Spain. 15,000 were arrested last year, four times as many as in 1999.

- In TURKEY, immigrants from all over Asia and the Middle East crowd the Laleli quarter of Istanbul. Smuggling gangs make a fortune arranging for passages to Western Europe and selling passports. Prices range from $250 for an Iranian one ($350 with your own photo and a forged official stamp in it) to $9,000 for a Danish one. The number of illegals captured in Turkey jumped from 28,439 in 1997 to 47,518 in 1999. 40,245 were caught in just the first six months of last year.

- In former YUGOSLAVIA, criminal gangs pack 'refugees' from all over the Balkans and much further afield into lorries and onto trains and planes for the journey west.

More than 24,000 Iranians and Turks poured into Bosnia alone in just the first ten months of last year.

Most posed as tourists, but only 1,000 went home — the rest all headed west! Meanwhile, huge numbers of Chinese enter Europe through Serbia, where the authorities encouraged Chinese immigration back in Communist times.

And the same is going on every day on the German/Polish border and at airports from Heathrow to Helsinki. Rome, Gatwick, Dublin, Berlin, Paris — every major airport in the EU gets its daily share of 'asylum seekers.'

With a disproportionate number of the illegal immigrants who get into Europe keen to get to the generous benefits available in Britain, this means that there is an inexhaustible flood of foreigners literally queuing up to get into our country.

The bottom line is this: They'll keep coming until Britain simply ceases to be British — or until the British people say 'Stop!' and turn to the only party which will take any notice of what ordinary voters want: The British National Party.

Blacks 'to be the majority'

By REBECCA PAVELEY

BRITAIN is heading towards a majority black and ethnic population, it was claimed yesterday.

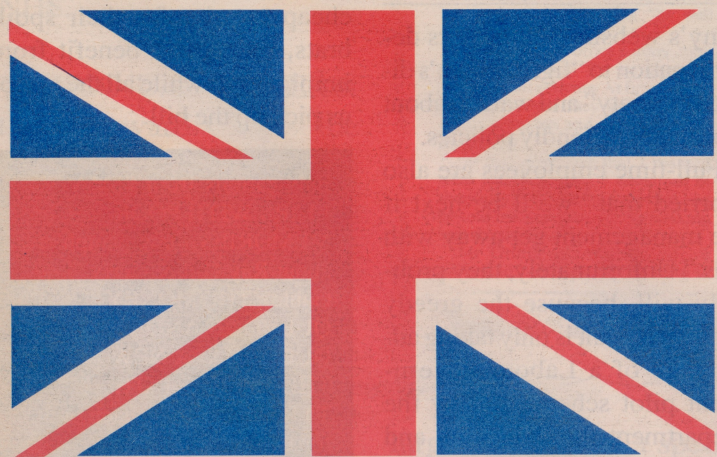

Operation Black Vote, which researches the ethnic mix in UK cities, said it would take at least 50 years before any significant shift, but it was inevitable.

Black and ethnic minority people currently make up around seven per cent of the population.

Ashok Viswanathan, spokesman for Operation Black Vote, said: "The shift is inevitable and should be celebrated. Britain is only Cool Britannia because of the contribution of multi-ethnic groups."

The research follows predictions that Birmingham and Leicester would be the first cities with majority non-white populations.

No. 11 January 2001

Editor: Paul Golding

The Voice of Freedom says ...

LABOUR SCRAP THE JACK!

JANUARY 1st was the 200th Birthday of the United Kingdom and the Union Flag. But, despite Tony Blair's appointment of a "Minister for Patriotism," the anniversary went completely unnoticed. No official celebration. No special postage stamps.

No fireworks over the Houses of Parliament. Nothing. New Labour, hell-bent on dismantling Britain and destroying our traditional identity altogether, found the whole thing rather embarrassing.

The Act of Union of 1801 saw the Irish Parliament absorbed into Westminster to create one system of government for the whole of the British Isles. This also led to the addition of the red diagonal Cross of St. Patrick to the earlier version of the Union Flag, thus creating the flag that floated over our troops - English, Scottish, Welsh, Ulstermen and Irish alike - at Waterloo and Rorkes Drift, and covered our dead from the Somme to the Falklands.

It's true that there has been the sad history of the often mishandled conflict between the British government and the people of what is now Eire, and other conflicts - such as the Boer War - where Britain acted as the catspaw of greedy international financiers.

But for all that, Britain is the nation that abolished slavery throughout most of the world, and whose inventions have done more than any other to shape the modern age.

More than that, it's our nation, the one our forebears sweated to build and died to preserve.

The Government's refusal even to recognise this anniversary is a reflection of the central aim of the Blair regime - the destruction of Britain. If the British people want this country even to exist in fifty years time, let alone to have its 250th Anniversary celebrated in style, they're going to have to stop hoping that one or other of the failed old parties will suddenly start to stand up for commonsense and decency and turn things around.

Only one thing can save this country and its people now. Us. And us alone. And by 'us', we mean you as well!

HOW MANY MORE CAN WE TAKE?

While white Londoners are heading towards minority status by 2015, local people in Leicester will be in this position in just ten years, according to the city council.

Paul Winstone, Leicester's race relations policy officer, admits that ethnic 'minorities' now account for about half the city's schoolchildren. "Already 50 per cent of children over five are from non-white ethnic minorities," he says. "We expect to pass that threshold in the general population by the 2001 census."

Of 55 city councillors, nearly 30 per cent are Asian, as is one of its MPs, Keith Vaz.

Leicester to be first city with ethnic majority

Headline from The Times newspaper, Friday December 8th 2000

Large numbers of whites who haven't liked the transformation of their city in no more than 30 years have moved out into new developments in smaller towns and villages throughout the region. Those who stayed behind now find themselves under increasing pressure from a council that puts immigrant interests first at every possible opportunity.

Racial tension is also a growing problem. In the past year, the number of racially motivated crimes recorded against Asians rose by 177 per cent. Attacks on blacks doubled, and those against whites more than doubled. Leicester police now deal with an average of more than two racially motivated crimes every day of the year. That's multiracism for you!

BOSSES OFFER £1,000 BONUS TO SACK A COLLEAGUE

EMPLOYEES at one of Britain's fastest growing companies, FI Group, are being offered a £1,000 bounty to finger colleagues who could be replaced by cheaper workers from India!

FI Group is a computer-services giant. Chairwoman Hilary expressed disgust at the offer.

They are particularly shaken by the hypocrisy of the company, whose stated corporate values include "shared trust, commitment and flexibility." The com-

The fast-track immigration scheme was announced by Home Office Minister Barbara Roche, and is part of a package allowing in even more students and unskilled agricultural labourers, as well as foreigners who will fill the skills shortage created by years of Tory and Labour underfunding of technical and scientific education.

Rolls Royce and banking giant UBS are among the big companies joining FI Group to take advantage of the opportunity to bring in cheap labour immigrants to replace some of their British workforce and force the rest to accept low wages.

The whole affair shows just how wrong far-left activists are when they say that opposition to immigration is something that plays into the hands of the super rich by "dividing the workers." The real truth is that immigration has become an important weapon for the super rich in their drive to get even richer.

From multinational companies driving down ordinary peoples' wages, to top shot lawyers, media tycoons and politicians employing illegal immigrants as cheap nannies for their spoilt brats, the "elite" benefit from immigration while all the rest of us pick up the bill.

FI boss Hilary "I'm all right Jack" Cropper, who earned £17.4 million last year, wants to axe British workers in favour of cheap labour from India!

Cropper was the highest paid woman in Britain in 1999 with an income of an obscene £17.4 million. This has made her a feminist pin-up in Equal Opportunities propaganda.

And now, in a move that will spread the unfair discrimination of 'Equal Opportunities' even further, full-time staff working on FI Group computer systems on site for major clients, including Barclays, Dixons and Tesco's, are being asked to point out self-employed sub-contract workers who could be sacked and replaced by employees of the company's Indian subsidiary

£1,000 handout. Despite the chance of some easy money, many FI Group workers have Full-time employees are also worried that "we'll be next if the management get away with this." Unfortunately, they probably will, because the greedy high-tech giant is only taking advantage of a Labour government pilot scheme run by the Department for Education and Employment (DFEE). This allows companies with foreign subsidiaries to issue their own British work permits to cheap labour staff from overseas.

'RED' KEN LIVINGSTONE UP TO HIS USUAL PC TRICKS AGAIN!

Angela Mason said: "I know that much still needs to be done to make sure that all Londoners, whatever their sexuality, are fully represented in the public life of London, but this is a unique opportunity to help create a modern city where every individual is treated equally and with respect."

So where is the representation of London's white communities? With all the problems of crime, transport mayhem, pollution and asylum seekers, Ken Livingstone is running around as he did in the 80s wasting his time wooing minority groups and on politically correct pet schemes.

We have a new year ahead of us! And we are going to be launching a fresh wave of initiatives designed to advance our Cause further in the year ahead.

The Christmas period always gives us a week or so in which to catch our political and organisational breath, and to flesh out the detail on plans that have had to sit on the back burner while more pressing day-to-day operations have to be dealt with.

A complete youth recruitment campaign is one thing we're already working on, and preparatory research work has also been done into the setting up of a Virtual Radio Station on the 'net. Add in the extended leadership conference we'll have held by the time you read this, and plans for everything from political education seminars to a monthly full-colour Identity, and you'll get some idea of what's going on behind the scenes.

The last year has been quite a turbulent one at times, with more than its share of the successes and snags, advances and crises, that are the staples of political life. Looking at the year as a whole, I have no doubt that the biggest single point of note has been the huge and continuing rise in the quality of the 'average' new recruit. Particular among those who come from the Internet, graduates and managers, very often with young families, are now close to becoming the norm. People in the public sector, who are at the sharp end of the anti-white bigotry and sheer unfairness of 'PC', are definitely waking up and beginning to look for a party and an ideology that reflects their own interests and addresses the problems that they and their colleagues face.

Meanwhile, from our traditional working class heartlands, my colleagues and I see an endless stream of sad, sad press cuttings from the local newspapers which are the only section of our prostituted media to mention the tide of brutal anti-white racial violence surging through our inner cities and northern towns. The cruelty and injustice of it all beggar belief, and every new post brings more reports that fuel our determination to give our people the lead and the organisation they need to turn things around. But as always, how much we can do, and how quickly, depends in large measure on how many new people step forward to shoulder part of the workload.

So if you're in the habit of making New Year's Resolutions, or even if you haven't been up until now, how about making one that you really mean to keep in 2001? If you are already actively involved in some way, promise yourself that you'll step it up in the year ahead. And if you've been sitting on the sidelines up until now, why not make this the moment when you take control of your involvement with this movement of ours and resolve to play an active role? Everyone can help in some way or another, there are no exceptions. So make up your mind to help, and then follow your decision through. Why not write and tell me a bit about yourself, your talents, and your decision?

If I can help you formulate a plan to make the most of your abilities, I'll be delighted. I look forward to working with you in 2001, and for many increasingly successful years ahead.

NOT SO NICE!

THE BBC spin doctors had a field day when Tony Blair returned from the EU summit at Nice. All the attention was focussed on the two vetoes Blair retained, particularly the right to make taxation policy. Obviously it was felt that this would go down well with an electorate that is fed up to the back teeth with being overtaxed.

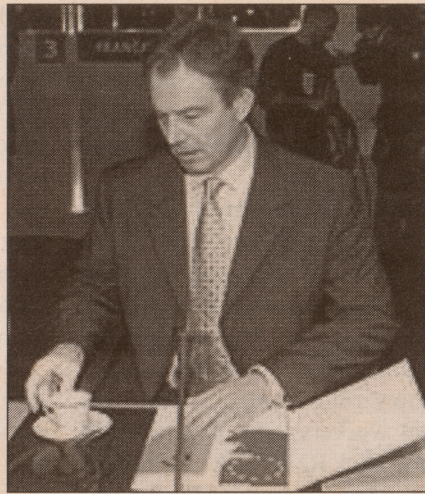

But Blair and the Brussels Broadcasting Corporation kept He very quiet about the 30 or more vetoes that he surrendered!

And, of course, there was no initiative to regain our fishing rights, reform the crazy agricultural policy or make our parliament in Westminster the source of all our laws once again.

No, the best the Europhiles can crow about is that Blair has only given up our sole right in 30 or more areas.

These include the regulation of political parties, border controls, visas, asylum, refugees, illegal immigration, financial aid to other members, external representation on international bodies, trade and commercial policy, trade union law, industry, cooperation with other countries, overseas territories, MEPs, and rules for the European Court of Justice, as well as a number of important but procedural questions.

In all of these areas we are all now less independent than we were. Another batch of our traditional freedoms and sovereign powers have been given away, but Blair claims credit for keeping the veto in two areas!

TONY BLAIR: Sold Britain down the drain at Nice Summit

Blair made much of the "enhanced voting powers" that Britain has supposedly gained. But this is a trick done with smoke and mirrors!

Before Nice, Britain had 10 votes out of 87 and now we have 29 out of 237. The actual increase is from 11.5% to 12.2%. Wow, thanks Tony! And that was just the Treaty.

Then there was also the Charter of Rights, which everyone except Blair and the BBC admit is the embryonic constitution of the EU Superstate.

This has now been adopted and the European Court will "take it into account" when deciding on judgments.

As we predicted in our last issue, the Nice Summit was a political, constitutional and legal disaster for Britain.

For all his bluster about two saved vetoes, Tony Blair joined Ted Heath, Harold Wilson, Maggie Thatcher and John Major as Prime Ministers who sold the pass to the forces of the coming EU superstate.

JAQUES CHIRAC: Headed the Summit

NEW YEAR MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

FIRST LUTON, THEN ELLESMERE PORT

A Vauxhall worker explains that there's worse to come as foreign owners butcher another British car company

The shock announcement that the American owners of Vauxhall are ending car production at Luton is another nail in the coffin of the British motor industry. More than 500 workers at the plant face the axe this March, with all the rest due for the scrap heap by March 2002.

Contrary to the impression given by General Motors spin doctors and the Tory press, Vauxhall Luton is actually a very productive plant. The figures that suggest it's not are cooked because the time spent on each car by large numbers of outsourced labour workers (such as the tyre department) is counted when working out how long it takes to make a car there. Many competitors, however, don't count outworkers' time, so their plants appear more productive than they really are.

Luton Vauxhall profits last year were nearly 50 per cent up on the previous year, and the plant has been consistently profitable for years now, except when the figures have been skewed by heavy reinvestment. This was why workers at the plant believed boss Nick Reilly just two months ago when he promised them jobs for at least nine years. And it's why we feel so bitterly betrayed by the company and the government now we face the dole. Grown men were crying here on the Tuesday that the closure was announced, and most of the local middle managers didn't come into work for two days because they were gutted as well – and because any attempt to make us work that day would have led to a riot!

But, despite the shock, it was inevitable that, as soon as the US started to go into recession, General Motors would look for ways to keep production going back in its home plants, and get the knives out for the foreign subsidiaries whose workers mean even less to the company than its American ones. So engine production is being shifted to the USA, and the axe falls on Luton.

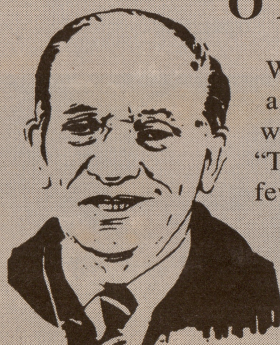

And, whatever, Blair & Co. pretend, the murder of Vauxhall won't stop here. V6 engines are now being built in the USA and Canada, which means that Ellesmere Port is next for the chop.

How much more of what is left of British industry has got to go before people realise that nationalist economic policies are the only way to secure real British jobs for British workers?

OBITUARY

We are sad to announce the passing of a true patriot. Ted Budden, who many will remember for many years wrote the "Ted Budden" column in BN and the first few issues of The Voice of Freedom, passed away on the 25th November 2000 following a stroke some months ago. Ted, and his excellent regular column will be sorely missed. Rest in Peace, dear friend.

THE BNP AND RACE

The BNP is best known for its policy on race and immigration. The BNP opposes immigration into the UK from whatever its source. For forty years this immigration has primarily been coloured. But it is not an issue of colour since the party is equally opposed to immigration from Albania and Eastern Europe.

The BNP is not a 'race supremacist' party. The BNP does not claim that any one race is superior to any other, simply that they are different. The party merely wishes to preserve those differences which make up the rich tapestry of human kind.

Neither has the BNP any connection with 'race hate'. Indeed it is the multi-racists who are the haters since it is they who are determined to destroy all cultures and all races to achieve a multi-racial mish-mash.

To protect and preserve the racial and cultural integrity of the British people – and of others too, the party believes in separation.

Only in a Black society will Black kids find true Black role models. Only in a Muslim society will Muslims find their religion free from Western influence. All peoples need a homeland. The British too need a homeland.

Nor are the BNP 'racist'. Indeed, the BNP are resisting the racist colonisation of Britain in which the native people of Britain are having their culture suppressed, their land colonised and are being discriminated against on racial grounds.

To sum up, the BNP is fighting for the very right to exist of not just the British, but of all peoples.

ANOTHER 'RACE ATTACK' THAT NEVER WAS!

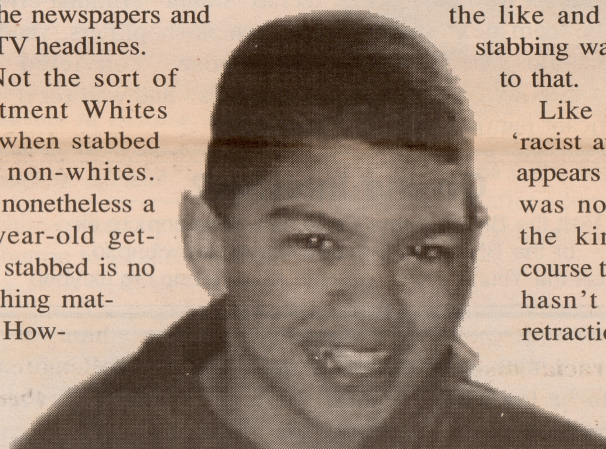

Danny Herbert, a mixed race 13-year-old, was stabbed recently. The media screamed about a racial attack.

It made the front pages on the newspapers and the TV headlines.

Not the sort of treatment Whites get when stabbed by non-whites. But nonetheless a 13-year-old getting stabbed is no laughing matter. However, the media has - yet again - ended up with egg on its face! It now appears that Danny Herbert was a part of a criminal gang involved in shop-lifting and the like and that his stabbing was related to that.

Like so many 'racist attacks' it appears as if this was nothing of the kind! Of course the media hasn't printed retractions!

Danny Herbert: attack on him was nothing to do with race!

"May 1st 1997 really was the start of a different era....Mr Blair's arrival at number Ten, choreographed in every detail by Labour Party Officials, was the first example in British history of a fake spontaneous demonstration. Labour Party HQ staff and their families, issued with special passes to the Downing Street high security zone, were marshalled by stage-managers wearing head-microphones, and handed Union Flags to wave as though they were patriots.

"Such people generally despise the Union flag and it would be interesting to know how they were persuaded to wave an emblem which they find embarrassing and kitsch.

"Those few observers who realised what was going on were disturbed as they witnessed this creepy event. But many reporters did not appear to notice the fraud, thus becoming part of the deception. Foreboding grew when the new PM addressed "his" MPs and told them they were, in effect, Government employees: deputies whose job was to represent the state to the people rather than the other way round.

"This came soon after close aides of the PM had been appointed to high office in the Civil Service, ending in seconds a century of neutrality.

"In a few short months, they had held referenda in Scotland, Wales and London, establishing new tiers of government.

"Because these changes were approved by referendum, Parliament could not repeal them. Another principle of the constitution, that no one government could commit its successors, was destroyed. Worse still, these were held without the rules of fairness long established in General Elections. The government used taxpayers' money to urge people to vote in favour, and the broadcasting organisations were not obliged to give equal time to both sides.

"The (sell-out of) Ulster operation was in many ways a dress-rehearsal for the coming referendum on entry into European Economic and Monetary Union. The Protestants of Ulster were the first UK Citizens to learn that they were no longer allowed to be British, but the rest of the people of the UK are fated to undergo the same shock in the next decade or so.

"Within months, this Government will face a General Election which will decide the future of Britain. Britain (will) take her place as a full member of the European Superstate. This will be achieved by the Blair Government's favourite method: the plebiscite in which voters are required to approve a decision already taken by the executive. Unfair referenda, in which the BBC is not required to show balance and the government is allowed to spend taxpayers' money on endorsing its own case, will be held to rush the country into the Euro and into proportional representation, and to ratify the new Government-controlled House of Lords. The riddle now before us is whether the British People any longer possess the will or the identity to resist this project, or whether they will sink, exhausted and grateful, into the mushy embrace of the New Europe."

Peter Hitchens,
Mail on Sunday

Former Black Panther leader Jesse Jackson admitted in a November, 1969 "Life" magazine interview that when he worked as a waiter in a Greenville, South Carolina hotel he spat into the soups and salads of White customers.

"[Spitting into the food] gave me a psychological gratification," Jackson said. During his early years in the communist civil rights movement Jackson often repeated this story to audiences. In fact the New York "Times" in a July, 1972 article, said: "Jesse would spit into their soup or salad before he brought it to the table, and watch with enjoyment as Whites ate gobs of saliva as though it were, say, oil and vinegar dressing." Jackson's formerly self-professed behavior as a waiter reflects his contempt for Whites. When he was an adolescent he often made fun of Whites, recalls Horace Nash, a classmate of Jackson's in Greenville. "He [Jackson] made up foolish jokes about Whites, about how stupid they were," remembers Nash.

"He used to turn things around, and he actually looked down on White people." As a self-professed preacher Jackson sometimes delivers sermons on the legacy of slavery, and many of his campaign speeches are laced with strong racist overtones. Not suprising, the liberal media gave Jesse Jackson his own talk-show on CNN and he is seated at the right-hand of Bill Clinton.

BIRTH RATE AT ALL TIME LOW!

The birth rate has plunged to its lowest level in almost 25 years! Just 622,000 babies were born in England and Wales last year - a two percent drop on 1998. Women are putting off having children until later in life, the Office for National Statistics has revealed. The average age of new mums is 29, the highest it has been for 50 years. It has risen from 27 years old in 1989. 39 per cent of births were outside marriage.

White populations are not even replacing themselves, thanks to the social consequences of liberalism and free-trade, which force both male and female to work to survive. As stated in last month's Freedom, the world population passed 6 billion a few months ago. Third World populations are multiplying, while most white nations are in decline. This is happening at a time when the EU plans to dismantle all borders in Europe and open the flood gates to immigrants and asylum seekers!

WHITE POLICE OFFICERS SUE OVER RACIAL DISCRIMINATION!

A group of white police officers are suing Nottinghamshire police for racial discrimination after an Asian colleague, Mr Satinder Sharma, was promoted despite scoring below them in selection tests! An employment tribunal is likely to hear the case sometime next year.

WHITE POLICE OFFICERS: face anti-white discrimination when it comes to being promoted Sergeant Phil Read, a Police Federation official representing the men, said that 44 officers were shortlisted for promotion. The list did not include Mr Sharma.

The six white sergeants were all ahead of him and on the shortlist. Mr Sharma appealed and was turned down. Mr Read claimed that the force's personnel section then intervened in an attempt to help the force to reach its targets on the promotion of ethnic minorities! The decision on the appeal was overturned and Mr Sharma became an inspector! The six white officers also appealed against their failure to be promoted, and guess what? They all failed! A second Asian officer who was also shortlisted was also promoted. Imagine if six black officers had scored higher than a white officer in selection tests, but the white officer was promoted instead purely on the basis of race? Politicians and the media would scream to high heaven, creating a circus about "racism." What we are seeing, as revealed in the last issue of Freedom with the nursing profession, is a recruitment scheme enforced by Labour to recruit purely on the basis of skin colour!

ROYAL MAIL DELIVERING EURO PROPAGANDA!

THE ROYAL MAIL is using taxpayers' money to send out pro-foreign political propaganda in the form of 175,000 glossy brochures extolling the "virtues" of the single currency to customers! The decision of the state-owned Post Office to spend a six-figure sum on a pro-Euro campaign was immediately and rightly condemned by customers and other sections of society. The two page supplement, sent to business across the country sets out the "benefits" of the Euro. It doesn't mention other benefits such as the loss of national independence, higher taxes, forcing out of poorer countries in the South of Europe, and the end of British democracy and freedom and total obedience to faceless bureaucrats in Brussels. The controversy came a week ahead of a debate in the House of Lords on an amendment to the Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Bill to prevent publically funded bodies spending money on political propaganda in the run up to a referendum.

The Post Office National Users' Council claims that 1 million letters go astray each week, maybe the Post Office should spend its money on improving its service?

The Royal Mail should spend its money on improving its service and not on mailing out pro-EU propaganda!

Britain's most influential nationalist magazine. Glossy, full colour and 36 pages, Patriot is packed with history, culture, comment and nationalist news and views. Issue 7 is out now, so send cheques/P.O.s for £3 for sample copy to: 'Patriot' PO Box 1032, Woodford Green, IG8 9GN.

DO YOU THINK? Currently the party's best leaflet. "Do you think" has been reworked and reprinted in the hundreds of thousands. As a result, this two-sided, two-colour leaflet has come down in price by a full £1 per thousand to just £7 for 1,000

CRIME LEAFLET (Shown right) With soaring crime rates hitting inner city, sub-urban and rural areas alike, this leaflet's mixture of hard facts and humour should prove a winner all over the country. Price £8 for 1,000

BANKS LEAFLET This innovative approach positions the BNP as the only party campaigning for a fair deal for the many millions of customers who are sick to death of being ripped off by 'their' banks. Price £8 for 1,000

IMMIGRATION LEAFLET Draws attention to the shocking figures that show Britons will be a minority by 2060, eyeopener, publicity, recruits. Price £8 for 1,000

HANG CHILD MOLESTERS LEAFLET

Ever popular call to hang child murderers. Price £6 for 1,000

Postage rates for all 5 leaflets are £5.65/1,000 & £6.45/2,000

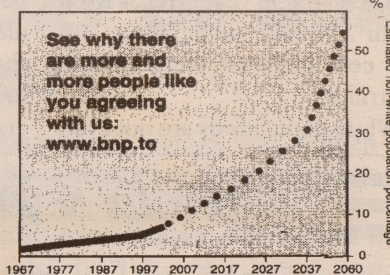

IMMIGRATION THE TRUTH AT LAST!

"Whites will be an ethnic minority in Britain by the end of the century"
The Observer 3/9/00

"On current projections, the changeover [from a white to a non-white majority] could happen as soon as 2060"
The Times 4/9/00

"One day, Britain will have a black Prime Minister"
Tony Blair 06/07/00

"I look forward to the day when Britain has a black Prime Minister"
William Hague 07/07/00

Above: On the 4/9/00, The Times published this graph showing the speed with which we're losing our country

Right: What top New Labour black activist said in The Observer 3/9/00

In Britain, that is almost certain to happen in London, and in the relatively near future. 'At the moment ethnic minorities are about 40% in London. The demographics show that white people in London will become a minority by 2010,' said Jasper. 'We could have a majority black Britain by the turn of the century.'
British National Party Chairman Nick Griffin said: 'I don't think there's any doubt that within this century, white people will become a minority in every country in the world.' For Griffin, however, it is a major cause for alarm. 'Every people under the sun have a right to their place under the sun, and the right to survive. If people predicted that Indians would be a minority in India in 2100, everyone would be calling it genocide.'

BNP PUBLICATIONS

BNP Activists' Handbook

This handbook is a complete instruction course in all the essential techniques needed in promoting and building the BNP at local level, starting from scratch when the activist is entirely alone. This booklet is a mine of information that all activists, old and new, will find valuable in the quest to make their activities more efficient and effective. It is a 'must' for everyone who wants to be more than just an armchair nationalist. The handbook is illustrated and runs to 71 pages. £2.00 post-free.

BNP Propaganda handbook

Spreading the Word is deals with propaganda and supplements the Activists' Handbook. Illustrated, Spreading the Word is 60 pages and contains five sections:- (1) Principles of Propaganda; (2) Recruitment; (3) Canvassing for Elections; (4) Speaking to the Media; and (5) Public speaking and presentation of Party meetings. Special attention is also given to dealing with enemy smears. £2.00 post-free.

BECOME A BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY LOCAL ORGANISER!

If you're interested in becoming one of the shining examples to our downtrodden

THOUSANDS OF ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS STILL HERE!

Jack Straw, Labour Home Secretary

Asylum seekers who have had their cases looked at, but who have failed to convince the Home Office of the validity of their need to seek asylum, are still staying in the country according to Jack Straw, Labour Home Secretary! Home Office Immigration chief Stephen Boys said he estimated the true figure for the number of asylum seekers in Britain to be "very substantial and likely to be hundreds of thousands." Even the infamous Afghans who hijacked a plane to get into Britain are still here!

MAN PROSECUTED FOR USING IMPERIAL MEASUREMENTS

The first British Trader to be prosecuted for selling his goods in pounds and ounces has appeared in Court! Sunderland City Council is prosecuting Steven Thoburn for refusing to convert to Europe-approved metric measures. Thoburn's scales were seized

STEVE THOBURN:
Struggling against the corrupt European Union!

Thoburn for refusing to convert to Europe-approved metric measures. Thoburn's scales were seized from his market stall by trading standards officers in July following the introduction of European legislation that forced a foreign metric system on Britain instead of our traditional Imperial measures. His legal team believes that every British trader still has a legal right to use Imperial measures under the 1985 Weights and Measures Act. It will become a test of what laws are obeyed.

Foreign laws or laws set by our own parliament! After the hearing, Thoburn, 36 of Sunderland, said: "I have had lots of support from all over the country and will certainly continue selling my wares in pounds and ounces." And damn right too! We in the British National Party wish Mr. Thoburn good luck in his continuing battle against the foreign bureaucrats in Brussels!

FARMING IN CRISIS

FIGURES released by the Office of National Statistics showed a fall of 29% in total farm incomes for last year. The Office of National Statistics said that about 700 million was wiped off farm incomes last year, reducing them to only £1.71 billion!

Farmers' leaders said the figures were "soul destroying." Incomes have fallen more than 70% since 1995, when the level was £6.07 billion.

Despite Government spin to raise hopes of better times to value of their cereals, potatoes, fresh fruit, cattle and milk. This year's figures, what's worse, don't count the damage caused by the recent floods.

Potato growers and dairy farmers were among the hardest hit.

The average farm income in Britain is now only £7,500 per farmer to cover salary and returns on investment. Farmers have been receiving prices as low as £60 a ton for grain - and rain-sodden wheat from this year's harvest has been selling for far less than that in some areas.

Dairy farmers have been receiving the equivalent of 10p a pint for their milk - less than the

And so they should!

LABOUR SPITS ON THE MEMORY OF OUR WAR HEROES!

Hundreds of thousands of British servicemen and women lie dead in war graves around the world, their last resting places tended by the gardeners of the War Graves Commission. In many cases for the British staff this is a labour of love so that although the dead lie in a foreign land they not entirely out of touch with the homeland they died for.

Now some pathetic little civil servants, employed by the Ministry of Defence, want to cut off the allowances of these British gardeners, probably as a prelude to employing cheaper local labour.

One of the beautifully kept cemeteries maintained by the Commonwealth War Graves Commission

This abandonment - for that is what it is - is the reward for their sacrifice and gives the lie to the hypocritical "salutes" we see from the politicians when Remembrance Day comes each year. Instead of saving money by cutting down bureaucracy, stopping giving hand-outs to "refugees," and stopping the loss of £1.8million to the EU every hour, this Labour government is betraying the memory of courageous men who walked into machine gun fire so that we can live free.

Sir: The news of the forthcoming closure of Vauxhall's plant at Luton by General Motors of Detroit should finally nail the lie that has been propagated by the Establishment for so long. That lie being that globalisation, inward investment and "free" trade are a panacea for all the economic ills of the western world as well as helping to alleviate hunger, poverty and corruption in the Third, or should that be developing world. Many of Britain's woes are directly related to the public's reluctance to purchase locally produced goods even when they are comparable in quality and price to those marketed by the multi-nationals. As one political figure of the last century once emphasized, the "home market" was the key to revitalising Britain, its people and its economy. Never was a truer word spoken!

Simon Ladd
Enfield, Middx.

Sir: I joined the BNP not too long ago. I should have woken up long ago! The road where I live is to have 80 asylum seekers forced on us! The council never asked local residents anything about this so now there will be more of them than us. Our local school has been fighting for funds for years and never got anything.

Now we learn that money is to be spent on teaching these asylum seekers English! They have been given free furniture to go with their free houses and flats. So much for our say!

Good luck!

Stockton, Cleveland

Sir: Unfortunately I was unable to attend this year's Red-White-and-Blue weekend. It was not until seeing on TV the Last Night of the Proms and the mighty display of national pride, and an atmosphere where people are not afraid to flaunt it, that I was prompted to wonder whether the RWB annual event could ever reach such epic proportions? The answer at the end of the day is that any such event will be what we make it! I for one look forward to Red-White-and-Blue 2001!

Mr I Barton
Brighton, East Sussex

Sir: While determined not to bow down to blockades against extortionate fuel-prices, Chancellor Brown uses his arrogant, pompous rhetoric, maintaining that the budget determines oil prices in this country, and not the opinions of the British people.

What a distortion. No bowing down to a perfectly just grievance on fuel prices, but a major climb down to the murderous, vile terrorists of the IRA!

All this and many of our country's problems can be swept away with three words: British National Party!

M Shell
Liverpool

Sir: As I write I also watch on TV, "The Cenotaph," and my heart fills with pride, and my eyes with tears at the bravery, courage and sacrifice of our brave men and women. My husband was in the invasion of Egypt, and he was in Cyprus.

I love my beloved country and hate watching the likes of Blair, Straw and the rest of the "New" Labour gang destroy it.

Every paper I pick up makes depressing reading. Thank God for the British National Party! There is so much to be done and so little time to do it!

Mrs M G Holohan
Stanmore, Middx

Sir: I read with much interest that the father of Damiola Tailor has condemned Britain's "sick society," stating that our "family values have gone to the dogs!" While it isn't appealing to be lectured to by an immigrant, he is absolutely right!

WANTED: MORE RUSSIAN BABIES TO RESCUE A DYING NATION!

FOREIGN NEWS

White Russia is dying! That's the conclusion of demographers studying the impact of the public health catastrophe and collapse in the birthrate that have hit Europe's eastern bulwark since the end of Communism.

While a young, energetic workforce is needed to revitalise struggling industry, agriculture and businesses, Russians are dying out faster than at any time since the Second World War, according to statistics released this month. The population has shrunk by 3.3 million since the Soviet Union's collapse to about 145 million - an unprecedented decline for an industrialised nation in peacetime.

The population is officially forecast to fall by a further 11 million over the next 15 years. More pessimistic analysts - including President Vladimir Putin - suggest it could drop to 123 million by 2015. "If you believe the forecasts, made by serious people who have devoted their whole lives to studying this question, in 15 years' time there could be 22 million fewer Russians. Just think about that figure - it's a seventh of the country's population," Putin warned recently. The phenomenon has been named the 'Russian Cross' by demographers - a reference to a soaring mortality rate set on a graph against a plummeting birth rate.

Russian men have a life expectancy 15 years below that of the British counterparts. This is partly the result of a health service in crisis - the disappearance of universal free access to health care and the collapse of national immunisation programmes. A World Health Organisation league table this year placed the quality of Russia's health system at 130th out of 191 nations, far behind equally cash-strapped former Soviet states such as Kazakhstan (64th) and Belarus (72nd). The system is unable to cope with a growing tuberculosis epidemic and the threat of an explosion of Aids cases. Falling living standards and stresses prompted by a decade of transition and economic depression are also key causes of premature death in men.

The stresses have led to chronic abuse of vodka and cigarettes, the main killers of Russian males. Russia's birth rate has done nothing to compensate for the dying population. Women are now expected to bear 1.17 children, down from 1.89 in 1990. Pregnancy and childbirth is 10 times more dangerous than it is in Germany.

With around a third of the population living below the poverty line (receiving monthly salaries that are under the official subsistence level of £30 a month), many women choose to delay giving birth or opt against it completely. As a result, two pregnancies are terminated for every child born, with abortion remaining a key form of birth control.

The government is hoping to pad out the population by repatriating ethnic Russians from former Soviet countries. Since the collapse of the USSR, around three million have returned to Russia and a further two million are expected, but this will not help much unless the underlying problems are tackled as well. Whether President Putin can become the genuinely pro-Russian leader the country needs to turn around its decline under the ruthless exploitation by foreign businessmen and mafia bosses that has so far blocked any chance of rebuilding an economy left in ruins by decades of Communism.

But whether he will have the strength to overcome the corruption and hopelessness that have brought this great European nation to its knees is yet to be seen.

In Brief.....

GOOD OLD BRITISH JUSTICE!

A trucker may be forced to sell his home after illegal immigrants were found in his trailer. Self-employed Lenny Schofield was handed a huge big £12,000 fine after six asylum seekers were found in his lorry at Dover.

DAMIOLA'S FATHER SPEAKS SENSE!

The father of Damiola Taylor has blamed Britain's sick society for the ten-year-old's murder. Richard Taylor, has said that jobs like those who killed his son are allowed to rampage on the streets. With an amazing outburst of common sense he stated: "Family values have been bastardised and allowed to go to the dogs," and "...there's a lack of discipline in society."

NEW INQUIRY INTO MP'S OFFICE BLOCK PRICE

The public spending watchdog is launching a detailed inquiry into the £231 million cost of a lavish office block for MPs opposite Big Ben which finally opened last month. Items such as a reception desk which cost £75,000, and £150,000 on 12 fig trees (now dying) show the extent into which taxpayers money is being wasted. When thousands of British people sleep homeless, many of them ex-servicemen who have fought for Britain in various wars, it is a shameful waste of money to spend £30 million on bronze cladding!

MORE WASTED TAXPAYERS' MONEY!

A ten million pound cash injection is on its way to the Fire Service to help recruit more ethnic minorities. With one third of British children officially living in poverty, this is another example of taxpayers' money being chucked down the drain in another politically correct pet scheme.

IMMIGRATION RATE DOUBLES

The number of immigrants settling in Britain has almost doubled. There were 129,100 acceptances for settlement in the year to June, more than in the previous twelve months! It is set to rise thanks to the EU's plan to take over our border controls.

LOS ANGELES TO CUT LINK WITH SCOUTS OVER GAY BAN!

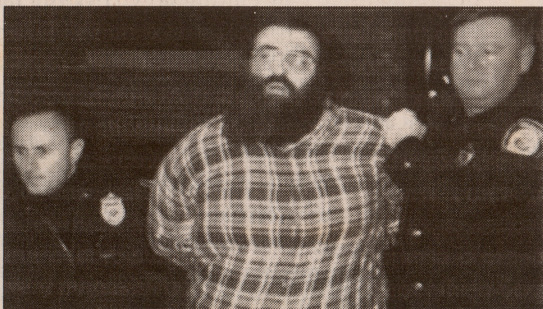

Los Angeles city council has voted unanimously to sever ties with the Boy Scouts because of their ban on homosexual members. The Scouts will no longer be able to use buildings and parks owned by the city for free, nor will they benefit from tax breaks and the support network of the city's administration.

ANOTHER MASSACRE, ANOTHER COVER-UP

ANTI-GUN campaigners who have used Michael McDermott's workplace massacre as a fresh excuse to call for tighter restrictions on firearm ownership in the USA have avoided mentioning one simple fact: Massachusetts already has some of the toughest gun laws in the US, yet these did not stop the alleged 42-year-old killer, who used an illegal assault rifle to gun down his colleagues.

Guns are like drugs. They can never be eliminated. They will always be in the hands of criminals, the wealthy and the government. If average citizens were allowed to carry guns for self-defence in Massachusetts, the suspect McDermott could have been shot down by his armed co-workers, especially those who were barricaded inside the accounting department, and had time to react defensively. As it was, they were left as defenceless as law-abiding citizens in Britain are in the face of armed criminals who naturally take no notice of the law. Another fact that hasn't received much attention is that McDermott was taking an "anti-depressant" drug of the Prozac/Luvox family. Such drugs are known to deaden the conscience and desensitise the feelings - thus making killing innocent people much easier.

Michael McDermott being detained after he massacred 7 people

Eric Harris, the leader of the two young leftwing psychopaths who committed the Columbine High School massacre in Colorado was also taking Luvox, according to the coroner's report quoted on KCNC NEWS4. Oregon's 1998 school shooter Kip Kinkel, who also killed his parents; Kenneth Seguin of Massachusetts, who killed his wife and children, and many other 'random' mass murderers, including the accused McDermott, were taking "anti-depressant" drugs like those used by McDermott. These are immensely profitable for drug maker Eli Lilly, which earned $2.5 billion in profits in 1999 from Prozac alone. Perhaps this accounts for why such

SSRI drugs haven't come under establishment media scrutiny and

Michael McDermott

Congressional investigation as a powerful contributing factor in so many mass murders? There is certainly enough evidence already known by scientists, including the fact that Prozac has "significant side effects," including akathisia, a severe form of agitation. Dr. Jodi Worrel of the Western Missouri Mental Health Center, for example, has warned that: "Child and adolescent data suggest worsening of aggression with SSRI treatment."

The anti-gun lobby make a great deal of use of the simplistic slogan "Guns Kill People." The truth is somewhat different: "Psychopaths and criminals kill people, often using guns because their innocent victims are unarmed." The answer is to stop the production of drugs which trigger psychopathic behaviour, and to get tougher on criminals. Unfortunately the left-liberals who clamour for gun control aren't really interested in stopping crime and murder anyway; their real aim is that of all tyrants throughout the ages: to disarm their own subjects so they can't resist tyranny.

WHITES URGED TO APOLOGISE IN SOUTH AFRICA

A new campaign is going to be launched in South Africa which asks whites to apologise for the problems faced by blacks in South Africa and for the "wrongs" during Apartheid.

Nelson Mandela and the new President of South Africa Thabo Mbeki. South Africa has turned into a typical African slum after the end of white rule!

The apology campaign, asks whites to sign a declaration saying they actively or passively supported apartheid and owed it to South African blacks to overcome its legacy!

The campaign also asks whites to donate money or time to uplift blacks.

"It's necessary for whites to acknowledge that we were all beneficiaries of apartheid and need to respond with real positive action," campaign chairman and guilt-ridden liberal Carl Niehaus said today.

"There is a sense of disappointment among the black community that whites are not committed to the new South Africa." Hardly surprising as it is a sea of crime, racial murders and rapes, poverty and squalor.

Martinus van Schalkwyk, leader of the New National Party said it would reduce whites to "handwringing apologists."

The British National Party here in the UK feels that white South Africans should apologise for the following dreadful crimes:

- Apologise for bringing clothing to a land where the natives were naked or only had animal skin loincloths to cover themselves;

- Apologise for bringing doctors and free medical care, as a result of which Black people have been able to survive plagues and catastrophes and grow in numbers;

- Apologise for teaching Black people to read and write;

- Apologise for providing the money to build schools and universities for Black people, always rebuilding them when they were burned down or vandalised;

- Apologise for bringing vehicles and roads to a land, which did not have the wheel, before whites arrived there 350 years ago;

- Apologise for building dams which store water for times of drought, and apologise for bringing running water systems to the houses whites built;

- Apologise for bringing electricity to South Africa;

- Apologise for building factories, roads, and buildings that give Black people employment and money;

- Apologise for developing commercial farms which to this day feed the bulk of Africa, the like of which the Black people never had before;

- Apologise for taking minerals from the earth, which Black people neither used, nor wanted, nor even knew were there;

- Apologise for those whites who have established welfare organisations and have devoted their entire lives towards making life richer and better for Black people;

- Apologise for paying the lion's share of taxation while spending less on themselves than on Black people;

For all these unforgivable sins white South Africans should humbly beg forgiveness and serve eternal penance!

RACIST BLACK DICTATOR URGES BLACKS TO ATTACK WHITES!

On December 14th in Harare, the capital of Zimbabwe, President Robert Mugabe urged black Zimbabweans to unite against whites and strike fear into their hearts, blaming a "racist" minority for the country's deepening economic crisis!

President Mugabe of Zimbabwe launches another hateful outburst blaming a tiny minority of whites for ruining the country's economy, despite being in power for two decades himself! While Labour condemn patriots in Britain, our Labour government doesn't lift a finger to protect whites from persecution by Communist thugs in Africa!

"Our party must continue to strike fear in the heart of the white man, our real enemy," a fist-waving and perspiring Mr. Mugabe shouted to about 7,000 cheering supporters at a congress of his governing party.

Mr. Mugabe made the speech two days after a white farmer, Henry Elsworth, was killed in an ambush near his farm, southwest of Harare.

He was the seventh white farmer to die violently this year. Mr. Mugabe's rousing address was part of an effort to revive support for his party, and he skirted the real issues of whether his two decades of leadership should continue and how to rescue Zimbabwe's economy.

WHITES IN BLACK AFRICA: Under siege, under threat and being persecuted!

During white rule, Zimbabwe used to be a food exporter. Now it is a food importer and is in debt and faces collapse. Mr. Mugabe vowed to continue commandeering white-owned farms for redistribution to landless blacks and said that the courts, which have twice declared the takeovers illegal, would not stop him! "The courts can do whatever they want, but no judicial decision will stand in our way," he said. "My own position is that we should not even be defending our position in the courts."

"The white man is not indigent to Africa," Mr. Mugabe, 76, said to wild shouts and applause from party delegates. "Africa is for Africans. Zimbabwe is for Zimbabweans."

And this man, who demands Africa for the Africans, is heavily supported by Britain's AMERICA: ELECTION DOESN'T CHANGE A THING!

So, after weeks of farce, George Bush is now President of the United States of America. Whether America has a Republican leader or a Democrat leader makes no difference to Britain - America still remains our master thanks to our pathetic politicians.

Our role as the offshore holding account for American capital invested in Europe still remains the same. Our dependence on American money and utter subjugation to America's every military demand still makes us her pacified poodle.

We know that the only way any politicians come to power these days is after a long process of demonstrating their utter incompetence and unworthiness for the job!

Only when politicians can be seen to have sold out every principle and is willing to seek only self service behind the mask of the civil good - will they be allowed to enter the halls of power. Modern politics has become just another product to be sold to the gullible public - politicians and their careers just another prime example of consumerism and phoney consumer choice.

The only good thing to have come out of the whole sorry debacle is that many Americans will have viewed the shambles of the election - and shifted their loyalties to those who really are the radical opposition.

Let us hope that this result signals the downfall of the current spin doctor political class of plastic politicians with disposable morals and fake smiles.

GREAT SOUTH EAST LONDON MEETING

SOUTH EAST London Region had another great meeting last month on 7 December, with John Tyndall as guest speaker.

The meeting was chaired by South East London Chairman Colin Smith, who earlier this year obtained 26.2% in North End.

The first round of reports were from local organisers, including Richard Brook who spoke of the progress in Lewisham and Bromley, followed by Jason Douglas, Bexley Organiser who spoke of happenings in North End. Then followed Paul Golding, the party's Director of Publicity who gave a short talk on the ramifications of the Nice Treaty, and the effect this would have on Britain's sovereignty: "Our ancestors who fought and died in their millions so that the British people could be free will not be betrayed! We must tell the politicians, this is our country, we have lived and breathed in it since the Stone Age, and we will surrender it to no one!"

After a short break and a good collection that helped raise money for the forthcoming General Election, John Tyndall took the podium.

He started by comparing the brutal murder of a Mrs. Beatrice Wilson, 74, who was hacked to death in Poole, Dorset, with that of Damiola Taylor, bringing attention to the massive amount of publicity received by the black victim, compared to the almost complete media blackout of what happened to Mrs. Wilson, who was white.

He then gave an all round account of the decline of Britain, from the days of Empire to the decadence of today's society. The Region is successfully gearing itself for contesting seats at the General Election where it is

No intention of hiding policies

MAY I comment on Margaret Smith's letter in last Friday's Express where she suggested that British National Party policies sought to "hide the truth of how capitalism steals from us all".

Her points are that wealth, comfort and security are in the hands of a privileged few - does she mean tax payers! That those same people launch vicious wars - China is a communist country and is ethnically cleansing Tibet! That workers are repressed (back to China again!) and that capitalism causes environmental devastation (I agree).

However, in her final paragraph the writer accuses the British National Party of attempting to hide their policies. May I say with the greatest of respect that it is precisely because we do not hide our policies and beliefs that we are subjected to so much calumny from our political adversaries and certain sections of the media, who, have a vested interest in keeping us away from the levers of power, and who have themselves been responsible for so much of the harm and damage which has been inflicted upon this once great nation of ours.

Finally, how anyone can suggest that there is "no room in Burnley" for an organisation of people who want nothing more than to put our own hard working, tax paying, law abiding, down trodden people first is beyond me. May I remind the above named that it was the British people who built this country and it was the British people who died to save this country from a fascist dictatorship whose mindset Margaret Smith seems to be attempting to replicate in attempting to deny the democratic process to a legitimate political organisation. ROUND UP!

THE BNP website is now getting a stunning 1,000 hits every day. When visitors to the young BNP site and the multi-media site are counted as well, the party's cyberspace operation reaches around 50,000 each month.

AROUND 40 people attended a very successful meeting in Peterborough December, addressed Nick Griffin and Chris Green. An open discussion session proved very interesting, particularly when the significant number of health service workers in the audience debated the problems of the NHS.

THE ANNUAL DINNER of the Hereward Club - the party's East Anglian fundraising group - was held the same evening in a very smart hotel on the edge of Peterborough. More than thirty people enjoyed a fine meal and good company. Party Chairman Nick Griffin and his wife were guests of honour.

BNP recruits in Rushmoor

by MATT BURROWS

AN EXTREME right-wing group is preparing to target Aldershot and Farnborough as part of a recruitment drive.

John Griffin, chairman of the British National Party, confirmed this week that his party plans to field candidates for Rushmoor Council in the 2002 elections.

He said the towns were "nice and fertile" - but the move has been condemned by local politicians who brand the party "dangerous Nazis".

The news follows a show of strength last weekend in which ten local BNP members passed out leaflets and donned Union flags in Aldershot town centre.

Stunned shoppers were handed leaflets which implied the British establishment is in cahoots with a national paedophile ring "as well organised as the Mafia".

One passer-by, office worker John Greenstein, said: "To be honest I found it a bit extreme. At first I didn't even know who they were - I just took the leaflets and stuffed them in my pocket."

"It was only later that I realised what was happening. I asked one of them why they were in Aldershot and he told me there was strong backing here for the BNP."

Mr Griffin said support for his party had been steadily growing in the area for some time, adding that it was a popular place for people moving out of London - where the BNP has some of its strongest support.

But he denied that the prosecution of London nailbomber David Copeland, who grew up in Yateley and lived in Farnborough, was a factor in the increase in sympathisers.

Copeland's BNP links were well publicised during his four-week murder trial at the Old Bailey in June, yet Mr Griffin was quick to disassociate himself with the 23-year-old.

"We condemn him - he is nothing to do with us," he said.

But Rushmoor's Labour leader Coun Andy Straker was just as emphatic as he declared: "As far as I know there is no interest in their filth around here, so I suggest they don't bother coming down."

"We've got a good community where people are happy to live side by side, and that's how we want to keep it."

"The BNP is dangerous, because no matter what they say about being democratic, violence still follows them wherever they go. But I wouldn't say there is any danger of them winning a seat here, even if they do find a candidate."

Coun Straker added: "We don't want Nazis here. We are talking about the home of the British Army - these people fought against Nazism in the war."

Liberal Democrat councillor Charlie Fraser-Fleming said extreme opinions were a fact of life, but also predicted the party would fail in Rushmoor.

He said: "They've not been successful here in the past, but if they want to come and try again I only hope the people will show they don't want these sort of extremist views put into a position of authority in a council chamber."

But Mr Griffin added: "The increase in support around here has not been huge, but it is significant. We started out with a very small base, but there has clearly been a change in people's opinion."

"We encourage all our members to stand for the local elections, and it's highly likely there will be a candidate for the Aldershot area at the next ones."

The BNP holds just one local council seat in the UK, in the Midlands. It holds no parliamentary seats.

In August the News reported that BNP stickers and leaflets had been left outside Copeland's former school in Yateley.

What is the BNP?

THE British National Party claims it is there "for the people of the British Isles, and to promote the interests of the British people, and to ensure that the British people are the only people to be represented in the British Isles."

The party was formed in the 1980s as an alternative to the more militant National Front. Its policies include the immediate withdrawal from the EU, an end to overseas aid and the disbanding of the armed forces - to be replaced with a British militia.

It is the only party to openly oppose the single currency, and promotes the idea that the British industry should be British-owned.

Although the BNP gets regular publicity, it is not a registered political party. It is required to have a minimum number of members to stand for election to any local or national council seat.

Holding its first council seat, it failed to win any party seats in the last General Election - despite having the largest recruitment drive in 1993.

Members of the party have been reported in the BNP campaign book 20 years of the party.

It is a small party, but it is growing rapidly.

Spring Rally - North of Britain

Saturday 3rd March 2001

Due to popular demand, the British National Party is holding two big Spring meetings - one in the South of Britain, and one in the North, so that everyone can attend one without travelling too far.

Top party speakers include Administration Director Chris Green, Group Development Director Tony Lecomber, Publicity Director Paul Golding, Deputy Chairman Scott Mclean, and National Chairman Nick Griffin. Plus a wide range of regional and local organisers.

A new display team will make these meetings the most mainstream and professional looking the BNP has ever held. These large meetings will be the ideal place for new recruits to feel the excitement and potential of the BNP, and give 'old hands' a chance to recharge their batteries! See you there!

MOVING FORWARD!

Unlike New Labour, the British National Party doesn't want or get donations of £2 million a time from 'refugee' businessmen. Unlike the conservative party, the BNP doesn't want or get million pound donations from Chinese heroin barons. Unlike the Lib-Dems, the BNP doesn't want or get huge sums from big supermarket chains in exchange for favourable decisions from councils when it comes to planning applications.

The BNP's money all comes from ordinary supporters. This is the way politics should be, because it stops the super-rich buying power. But we can only fight against this old party corruption if we have enough money to build the well-organised political machine needed for the British people to take back control of their own destiny. That's why, now you've read Freedom and found just how much you agree with what the BNP believes, we ask you to become one of the growing number of supporters who are helping to fund the growth of Britain's last hope. Whatever you can afford, it all helps!

Please make cheques/POs payable to 'BRITISH NATIONAL PARTY' and address them to PO Box 51, Oundle PE8 6WQ. Please send a S.A.E. if wanting a receipt for less than £10.

What we stand for

In the British National Party

- A massive expansion of Freedom and Democracy to roll back the erosion of our traditional freedoms and truly reflect the wishes of the people; the adoption of popular referenda & hi-tech direct democracy.
- The establishment of a government that puts British interests first.
- An end to immigration and the scandal of bogus asylum-seekers flooding Britain. The use of the billions now wasted in foreign aid to fund generous 'Homeward Bound' schemes to encourage immigrants to return to their lands of origin.
- British withdrawal from the European Union: trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties, and no monetary union.
- The use of the £1 million per hour we at present pay the EU to fund the restoration of an effective National Health Service and proactive measures to produce a healthier population in the first place.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources including the mass media.
- Protection of British jobs and industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- The introduction of tax incentives and other policies designed to ensure that the City finances British industry rather than foreign competitors.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside; a ban on greenfield-site house building except in cases of genuine local need; an end to field trials of genetically modified crops.
- A crack-down on crime and tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty for child killers and terrorists.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and an end to the 'trendy' teaching methods which have failed our children so badly.
- An alternative defence strategy based on the principle of armed neutrality; no British blood should be shed in conflicts which do not involve vital British interests. The restoration of the County Regiment system and reversal of the defence cuts which have weakened our Armed Forces and cost thousands of jobs.
- The crushing of the IRA and other terrorist groups, the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and the establishment of a devolved, non-sectarian parliament in Northern Ireland.
- A return to healthy moral values and policies aimed at strengthening the family and community. Tough penalties for corruption in public life.
